REGULATING THE SPEED OF TRAINS

We have no way of knowing just how far those who proposed a strict enforcement of the law regulating the speed of trains in the city of Maysville looked into the matter before proposing same at the meeting of the City Council last Monday night, but we are quite certain if they had thought the matter over carefully they would have seen the impracticability of making trains run at the rate of six miles an hour through this city. If the law must be enforced, there is certainly something radically wrong with it and it should be changed.

Under the present law, if enforced, it takes a train about forty minutes to run through the city, or the same length of time that a fast walker could cover the same distance. This is not on unjust to the railroad company but to the traveling public in general. Besides it is an invitation to small boys to steal as many free rides as they wish to and to coal heavers to replenish their bins at leisure.

One of the main points to be considered, however, is what the con- W. Right is right, and wrong is wrong; it is therefore, up to the mem bers of the City Council to enact a law that will be equitable, giving meier's home. both the city and the railroad a chance to do what is right. "A hint to the wise is sufficient."
